No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. Rice, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881.
Gents:—The foolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity, and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1893

THE COST OF WAR

Such fearful consequences attend upon a great war since the invention of repeating rifles, etc., that peace is yearly becoming more to be sought after. Even the cost in coin is a great object, to say nothing of the suffering of those who stay at home, and the sacrifice of life among those who go to war. The United States has paid to its foundation something over $700,000,000. The payment of pensions has been going on ever since the organization of the Government. An Act promising pensions to those disabled by the war of Independence was passed by the Continental Congress August 26, 1776, less than two months after the Declaration of Independence, and from 1789 to 1791 the payments on account of pensions were $175,000. In 1792 they were over $100,000. From that date to 1810 they were not above $100,000 except in 1795 and 1798, and in 1808 they dropped down to $62,000. In 1816 they jumped to $188,000, and have never been below that since. From 1819 to 1864 they averaged only two millions a year, only dropping below one million a year six times. In 1864 the effect of the late civil war was felt, and they went up to about five millions. Next year they were sixteen millions, the next about the same, then twenty, then twenty-eight; and so they ran at about that until the arrears of the Pension Act doubled and trebled the sum, and now the payments reach over sixty millions every year, and still increasing. The number of persons on the rolls now aggregates about 300,000, the work having been pushed forward with great rapidity during the past year. "It is not for this pension business," said a Treasury official recently, "we should make a much larger showing of reduction in the national debt. Sixty or seventy millions a year is a terrible drain on the Treasury." For every hour of one business day the year round, there is paid out twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars, or nearly five hundred dollars a minute. That is, counting working hours.

TOO MUCH CASH

The fact that the United States Government has so much money that it does not know what to do with it, leads the Indianapolis Times to these reflections and figures:

The announcement that the public debt had been reduced $134,000,000 during the last fiscal year, has started the very pertinent and interesting inquiry of what is to be done with the surplus revenue of the Government. The condition of affairs is about thus: The debt now outstanding is $1,235,000,000, and the interest thereon is $59,000,000. The law requires that $50,000,000 shall be annually added to the sinking fund. There are now $338,000,000 of bonds subject to call. In 1891 $250,000,000 four-and-a-half per cent bonds were subject to call. The $737,000,000 four per cent bonds payable until 1907. At the present rate of paying, the first $338,000,000 would be taken up in two years and a half, or by January 1, 1895. There would then be five years before any more could be called in. The accumulated surplus would pay off the $250,000,000 and leave on hand more than half enough to pay all the remaining debt, which can not be reached until 1907. The Government can not go on piling up this surplus revenue, for she would exhaust the whole country. In view of the situation, the question of what shall be done with the surplus is a very interesting one, and one that must sooner or later attract the attention of Congress. It has been proposed to divide this surplus among the States. The argument in favor of this is that it gives to the States the most popular and lucrative source of taxation—wages and customs.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Hanged by a Mob—A Destructive Fire.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), July 26.

A Miles City special says: A party of masked men proceeded to the county jail, overpowered the jailer and locked him in one of the cells, and then seized a man named Rigney, whom they took about a mile out of town, and hanged him to a projecting tie over a culvert on the railroad track. Rigney was jailed the day before yesterday for disorderly conduct, and bore the reputation of a bad citizen; being accused of robbery and other crimes. He was a bartender in the saloon of the Cosmopolitan Theater. About two hours afterwards the theater burst into flames, and was completely destroyed with six other buildings, among which were a large drug store of W. E. Savage & Co., and five establishments of business. The progress of the fire was arrested by the brick building of the First National Bank; otherwise the entire block would have been destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $50,000. It is generally thought the fire was the work of an incendiary, and the sequel to the hanging of Rigney.

Captain Webb's Recklessness.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 26.

There are some who believe that Captain Webb succeeded in his foolish undertaking, and that he is concealing himself to fan the flame of excitement, when he will make his appearance and a fresh trip. A great many wagers are being made on the American side that he will be seen alive inside of five days; bets have been made even, and two to one that such will be the case. But the general belief among the oldest residents is that Captain Webb is no more. It is also believed that life was extinct before he had cleared the rapids, and that when he reached the pool his lifeless body was swallowed up by the immense eddy, and that it is altogether likely that his body will never be recovered.

Old Soldiers in Connell.

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.

There were 25,000 visiting citizens and ex-soldiers present at the national review-to-day. Twenty-five members of the Confederate 6th Virginia are being entertained by the 3d Ohio, who divided rations with them when taken prisoners. At the reception on Capital Square speeches were made by Governor Foster, ex-President Hayes and others, and telegrams of regret were received from distinguished soldiers and citizens from all parts of the country. At Camp Dennison this afternoon, speeches were made by Judges Foraker and Hoodley and Generals Gibson, Foster, Hayes and others. A grand display of fireworks closed the day. To-morrow will be Grand Army Day, and it is expected that 6,000 members will be in line.

The Western Union Defiant.

NEW YORK, July 26.

There is as yet no disposition on the part of the Western Union Company to meet the demands of the strikers, and the rumor that a compromise had been effected, is emphatically denied by the officers of the company. They claim that the situation is continually improving; that a practical victory has been won over the strikers.

A Telegraphic Compromise.

PITTSBURG, July 26.

The following dispatch was received by Secretary Hughes: "Satisfactory arrangements have been made between the Brotherhood of Telegraphers in the United States and Canada, and the American Rapid Telegraph Company. All members working for that company will resume work to-morrow morning."

A Democratic State Convention.

PITTSBURG, July 26.

A Democratic State Convention met at the opera house yesterday afternoon. Every county in the State is fully represented. The hall was crowded. A temporary organization was had by the election of Cosbin M. E. Reynolds, Chairman. After recess General James A. Walker of Pulaski was made permanent Chairman.

A Compromise.

BALTIMORE, July 26.

The basis of the agreement between the Brotherhood and the American Rapid Telegraph Company is an advance of 10 per cent on salaries and extra pay for all work done over eight hours for a day, seven hours for night work, and extra for all Sunday work.

Fair Dealing.

ATLANTA, July 26.

The House of Representatives unseated D. B. Proctor (white) from Camden county and seated Antony Wilson (colored) in his place, by a vote of 92 to 61. Wilson has been in two previous Legislatures. There are two other negroes in the House.

Moré of the Strike.

CHICAGO, July 26.

Superintendent Clowry this morning reported that all business of the Western Union Company in this city is cleared up to all leading points but Winnipeg, to which place the wires are all down.

All wires in the Board of Trade are manned. He also reported that day and night forces in the main operating room are now getting full rest. The wires on the Northwestern Railroad were cut again last night, but were speedily repaired. The officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Company have been negotiating with the strikers the past two days, but as the latter demand a recognition of the Brotherhood as a preliminary to settlement, no conclusion has been reached. The operators held a secret meeting at Union Hall at 10 o'clock this morning, with the object, it was whispered, of discussing some important information that has come to hand from Pittsburg. A member of the Brotherhood exhibited to his fellow-strikers, previous to the meeting, an unofficial letter he received this morning from a friend in St. James, Mich., saying that $1,000 could easily be raised in the writer's division of the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad alone, should Chicago men need assistance, and that more would be forthcoming from other divisions. Mr. McCulloch, Manager of the Baltimore and Ohio, declined to give any information as to the probable action of the company, further than that the Brotherhood would not be recognized as a body. If the men negotiated individually they would probably be well received; but so far as he knew, no signs of yielding to the men's demands have been manifested by the directors.

The Western Union Makes a Bluff.

CHICAGO, July 26.

Superintendent Clowry is in receipt of a telegram from Acting President Eckhart at New York, sent at 11 o'clock this forenoon, which reads as follows: "The attitude of the Western Union Telegraph Company as defined in previous communications, will not be changed by any action taken by other companies. The condition of our lines and service is most gratifying, and warrants the belief that within a day or two a general restriction upon the acceptance of messages may be discontinued. Seven Western Union operators, not members of the Telegraphers' E-therhood, who last week signed an agreement to strike by a certain time if no action should be taken by the Western Union Company, looking forward to a compromise of the question at issue between the company and the strikers, were discharged at twelve o'clock to-day. All those discharged were first-class men, and constitute a majority of those who remained at their desks when the strike began."

Rough on Mr. Polk.

NASHVILLE, July 26.

The jury in the case of ex-Treasurer Polk, brought in a verdict of guilty of embezzlement, fixing the penalty at imprisonment in the penitentiary for 20 years, and imposing a fine to the full amount of the embezzlement.

Telegraphic Matters.

NEW YORK, July 26.

By the majority of persons the surrender of the American Rapid Telegraph Company to the demands of the strikers, is regarded as a certain indication that the strike is nearing the end. It is rumored that the Baltimore & Ohio Company will be the next to give in, and that negotiations are now pending, looking towards a consolidation with the American Rapid Company, thus forming a combination against the Western Union. It was stated this morning by the officers of the Baltimore & Ohio Company that it was the intention of the company to remain firm. At the office of the American Rapid Company, 166 operators were on duty to-day, including the 116 men that went out on the day of the strike; 400 operators in all have returned to work. Thirty-eight branch offices in this city have also reopened and a large amount of business is reported to have been handled. The Western Union still remains firm, however.

The clergy of the Greek church in Russia are praying that the cholera may not touch that country. Two or three cases have already been reported.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

The American Team Feasted.

LONDON, July 26.

The banquet given by the British Volunteers in honor of the American rifle team, took place at Criterion to-night. The American and British rifle teams were present in full uniform. About 100 persons were at the tables, including Earl Waldegrave, Lieutenant-Colonel Otter, Captain of the Canadian team, and several other Canadians. Sir Henry Hallford of the British team, proposed a toast to the Queen, which was drunk standing. The toast to the President of the United States was received with three cheers. General Sir William Murray responding to the toast, the army, dwelt upon the similarity of the organization of the British Volunteers and the American National Guard. Sir Henry Hallford, in proposing the health of Colonel Howard and the American team, said they were well worthy of the country they represented; they were led by a man than whom no one was better qualified to lead when shooting at 800 yards.

Papal Intelligence.

ROME, July 26.

Intelligence has reached here from Berlin that Bismarck will continue to treat with the Vatican for a settlement of the differences between it and Prussia. Information has been received at the Vatican from New York, that the Catholic clergy in the United States will follow the instructions of the Pope in regard to Parnell and his followers.

Last night, in Philadelphia, about 200 striking operators marched to the office of the American Rapid Company, and congratulated the manager upon the course he had pursued in compromising with their operators.

The President and Cashier of the Bank of Leadville, at Leadville, Colorado, made an assignment this morning. The failure has been long anticipated, and it is not thought that other Colorado banks will suffer much.

It was reported in San Francisco yesterday that the Central and Southern Pacific Railroad Companies will soon open an up-town office for both freight and passenger business. It is also reported that the company will soon erect a handsome building for the Oregon business.

I PRESERVE YOUR BUTTER COLD, sweet and fresh, as no other refrigerator can do. This is accomplished by a fact long established by all connoisseurs of butter, that any vessel, cabinet or refrigerator made of wood or any other substance carrying with it an odor, destroys the rich aroma contained in fresh butter, and furthermore all butter kept in the same vessel, cabinet or refrigerator with vegetables, any kind of meat, or any substance carrying a scent, becomes so tainted as to be unfit for table use, and even for culinary purposes. People may complain of poor butter, but the fault lies in the manner of keeping it.

General Sir William Murray responding to the toast, the army, dwelt upon the similarity of the organization of the British Volunteers and the American National Guard. Sir Henry Hallford, in proposing the health of Colonel Howard and the American team, said they were well worthy of the country they represented; they were led by a man than whom no one was better qualified to lead when shooting at 800 yards.

SLIGHTLY IMPROBABLE.

An Idaho Horse With Teeth Seven Feet Long.

A story comes from Cassia county, Idaho, of an equine wonder which is an agreeable change from the summer snake yarns. Some men who were hunting stock found the horse. They observed that when chasing the animal up hill, when pushed close, it quickly turned down hill, and, instead of taking its regular motion, its gait resembled that of a man going down a steep descent on snow-shoes. Their curiosity being aroused, they persistently followed him for two days, his fleetness keeping them at a distance until nightfall of the second day, when they got sufficiently near to bring him to the ground with a well-aimed shot from a rifle. An inspection of this wonder revealed the fact that its back measured the almost incredible length of seven feet. The body otherwise resembled that of a perfectly formed horse. Had the men taken the horse alive, Barnum would have given a small fortune for the animal.

A Question of Importance to Beer Vendors.

The Steer State of yesterday says: The question, "Whether a brewer, who makes his own lager beer, from malt made from barley raised in the county, and who has a license to sell beer by the wholesale, can dispose of it in quart bottles?" is to be solved in Justice Osborn's Court today. It is claimed that the law does not consider it as retailing beer unless it is sold in less quantities than by the quart. It is estimated that a wholesale licensor does not authorize a person to sell beer in less quantities than five gallons, suits will be brought immediately against several vendors who have been selling it by the quart under a wholesale license.

Browned in the Bath.

Patrick Kelly, aged 70 years, was found dead in a hot spring on the Bruneau, Idaho, last week. Being in bad health he was induced to try the springs, and while unattended it is supposed he was overcome by the weakening effects of the hot water, and was drowned in two and a half feet of water.

NOT COPPER SMELTING.

What it Costs to Work Copper Ore in Chicago.

A Chicago correspondent of the Mining Review, published in that city, contributes the following relative to the actual cost of treating copper ore: The price asked in the East at the present time for reducing, oxidizing and refining raw copper ore and turning out refined ingot copper is five cents per pound on the copper produced from the raw ore.

The average quantity of fuel required in the process of reducing a ton of copper ore from the beginning to the refined copper is estimated at about one and one-half tons of soft coal to the ton of copper ore.

In this price of five cents per pound for turning out refined copper is included the labor and the wear and tear of furnaces. A charge of three and one-half cents per pound for producing matte carrying 65 per cent, or a charge of $35 per ton for turning out refined copper, will allow the smelting works an enormous profit, averaging at least 35 cents per pound.

In Chicago the process of treating copper ores, reducing, oxidizing and refining, can be performed at a profit for 31 cents per pound of ingot copper from ore yielding 35 per cent. Matte averaging 65 per cent can be reduced for 2 cents per pound, and metallic copper averaging 96 per cent can be done for $20 per ton. Such prices, matte and metallic copper from the west, would save a large per cent of cost in transportation by being treated in Chicago, and thus give an additional profit to the miner and smelter, amounting to $6 or $7 per ton, which would be a just and worthy consideration. Copper has been and can be made in Chicago of as good quality as ever was made at any other point, taking the same quantity of ore into consideration. The copper produced by the Chicago Copper Company is as good as any in the country, except the lake copper, and that is of a different quality. Quotation of different kinds of refined copper show the grade of Chicago copper. Lake was quoted 15 1/2 to 16; Chicago, 15 1/2 to 15 3/4, and Arizona, 15 1/2 to 15 3/4 cents per pound. With the many advantages that Chicago possesses as a smelting point, it will be strange if they are not soon improved by enterprising capitalists, who can easily figure the large and regular profit in the business, when properly managed and conducted.

A NOVEL PATENT.

A Fourth of July Poem Which is Doing Good Service.

All sorts of things have been patented, but an application for a patent on a poem is a novelty, says the San Francisco Post. J. P. Cogrove, one of the editors of the Stockton Mail, is the inventor of a Fourth of July poem on which he has applied for a patent, and which he calls the patent expansion automatic telescope poem. The contrivance is so arranged that it adapts itself to the locality in which it is to be recited. It was originally delivered in Virginia City, but by an ingenious complication of levers and springs it has done good service at various Fourth of July celebrations, including one each at Stockton, Dutch Flat, Sausalito, Salt Lake and Santa Rosa. It is engaged for the next Fourth, but is open to a limited number of engagements for other towns.

Substantial Aid.

The San Francisco Bulletin says: Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the Typographical Union was held at the old City Hall, and resolutions expressing sympathy with the striking telegraph operators, were passed. The North Beach Lodge met on Leavenworth street, and subscribed $300 in cash and took $75 worth of tickets for the entertainment to be given for the strikers' benefit Sunday night. The Painters' Union met at Huddy's Hall, and subscribed $75 in cash and took $150 worth of tickets. The Patternmakers' Union met at the same place, and subscribed $200 in cash and took $150 worth of tickets. The Trunkmakers' Union, by some misunderstanding, could not get their room at Huddy's Hall, and were forced to occupy a vacant room on Mission street. It was stated that $75 worth of tickets had been taken.

A Progressive View.

The "telegraph operators' bill of grievance," remarks the Salt Lake Tribune, "contains one plank which will commend itself to the hearts of every woman in the land. It says, with simple directness that renders all explanation of its meaning superfluous: 'Both sexes shall receive equal pay for equal work.' It is a custom too prevalent in communities over the entire surface of the globe to pay women less wages for work they may do equally as well as men."

Somewhat Well-Kept.

There was considerable excitement on Virginia street this forenoon, caused by an excited discussion between two well-known citizens concerning a garish suit commenced by one of the parties for an insignificant amount.

Good Water.

A well expert who has traveled all over the State, and partook of Adam's ale freely, pronounces the well water at the Golden Eagle Hotel to be superior to any he ever drank.

Captain William Wallace, formerly of Lyon and Ormsby counties, and a Captain of an infantry company during the war, came in on the Bidwell stage yesterday, and went below this morning. The Captain is engaged in trade at Lake City, Mojave county, Cal., and holds his age remarkably well for one who has roughed it so long.

THAT FLAG STAFF AGAIN.

The Carson "Appeal" Keeps It Before the Public.

The Carson Appeal of this morning has the following concerning a promise which was never intended to be kept:

In trying to find some excuse for the failure of Governor Adams to keep his Candelaria promise, the Elko Independent says:

"Governor Adams has earned the reputation of an honest and honorable man, and had he not been scurrilously attacked by hostile newspapers, for the purpose above mentioned, the promise in question would have been already planted."

Both the statements made by the Independent are incorrect. The Governor has earned a reputation for breaking promises, evading issues and resorting to all sorts of petty trickery, to gratify his political ambition. He has not been scurrilously attacked, but only made the subject of deserved criticism. Any man who makes promises he does not intend to keep is open to criticism. Before a lawyer takes up a client's defense he should ascertain something of his client, and this the Independent has evidently neglected to do.

A Sad Suicide.

Ex-County Treasurer Daniel E. Callahan committed suicide at the Golden Eagle Hotel, in Sacramento City, Tuesday morning. It seems that but recently a shortage has been discovered in his accounts as treasurer, and when informed of it, he remarked that he might as well shoot himself, for he could never replace it. Mr. Callahan was one of those liberal, careless men who are always getting into financial trouble.

Robbed of Her Diamonds.

Mrs. Julia Prescott, formerly of Reno, was robbed of her diamonds, valued at $500, a few days ago in San Francisco.

A NICE PRESENT.

A Prison Convict Constructs an Elegant Piece of Stone-Work.

Last evening's Virginia Chronicle contains the following: Captain J. E. Coulter of Battery A yesterday sent up to the Battery a magnificent match box made of sandstone by M. Pritchard, a convict at the Nevada State Prison. The base of the article is about 10 inches high and is surrounded by an arch. On the arch is placed a miniature long-gun, chiseled with exquisite skill, the base, arch and gun being one block of sandstone. The cannon is neatly gilded and forms a striking contrast to the block. On the arch is the inscription, cut in the stone, "First Nevada Artillery," and below are the words "Battery A."

The same is inscribed on the reverse side. On the base of the work, which is about 10 inches in length, is a panel, on which in bas-relief is the representation of an eagle holding spears in his talons and resting in the angle formed by the crossing of two American flags. This is also gilded. On the ends, which are nearly four inches through, is the representation of the stars and stripes, surrounded by the motto "U. S. A." The initials of the Captain of the Battery, who is also Deputy Warden at the Prison. The upper surface of the base has been hollowed out and can be used for a match box. The work gives evidence of great mechanical skill. The boys were particularly pleased with the cannon, the parts of which are in perfect proportion to the whole. The article will be placed on exhibition for a few days.

A Mining Sale.

An important mining sale, says the Elko Independent, has been made recently at Osceola, in White Pine county, to San Francisco men. The machinery for a quartz mill is already at the terminus of the Utah Southern Railroad, ready for shipment thither by team. Lumber is being delivered on the ground for the building. Jim White is in charge of construction.

Somewhat Embarrassing.

Carving isn't fun. A young man in Salt Lake was invited to carve a chicken at dinner recently, and before the knife was finally taken from him he had upset a glass of water, wrenched his shoulder, shot the bird across the table into a lady's lap, and nearly jabbed a man's eye out, and it wasn't a tough bird either.

A Suicide.

Luke Gilboa, a Bodie miner who was badly injured by a horse falling on him on the 6th inst., committed suicide by poison Tuesday morning. He had been gradually growing worse ever since the accident, and took the fatal potion, as he expressed it, "to get out of this." The deceased was 38 years of age.

Comparatively Harmless.

An exchange says: "Cigarette smokers will be pleased to learn that the mildest cigarettes are benevolently made from the fine cut tobacco, out of which the injurious strength has been already chewed by gentlemen of leisure." Reno dudes will doubtless be pleased to know this.

The Carson Team Complimented.

The New York Sports of the Times, in noticing the score made by the Carson rifle team, says they are the best shooters of the West. There seems but little doubt that the Carson team, as at present organized, is the equal of any in the East or West.

Shut Down.

The Gazette learns from the Chronicle of last evening that the Crown Point mine is virtually shut down, causing a draft of 140 miners and top hands. The scarcity of water in the Carson river is the cause.

Young, old and middle-aged men and women, get health and strength by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

FOREBLY PAT.

The Salt Lake Tribune, in an article upon the recent murderous attack upon the acting American Consul at Monterey, Mexico, says:

What kind of a government have we, anyhow? Is it worth while to raise hundreds of millions a year to run a government that doesn't govern? Why should the Mexicans scruple to spit in its face any more than the Texans or the Mormons? The country is fast passing altogether under mob rule from the utter imbecility of its courts and its executive officers. O, for a government that would compel respect by deserving it!

Smith vs. Logan et al.

Mr. Logan was convicted in the District Court to-day for contempt and fined $75 and costs amounting to $27.25. Judge Boardman ordered him to jail until the fine was paid. The contempt grew out of Logan diverting water from Galena creek after having been restrained from taking it by the Court. Clark & King were attorneys for Smith, and Ellis and Alexander for Logan.
